

Before You Press That Button...

Are You Sure That None Of Your Self-Pay Encounters Have Become Eligible For Retroactive Medicaid?

While a patient may have been uninsured on the date of their original encounter, many times that same patient can go on to receive full Medicaid benefits long after their initial visit. In many cases, the FQHC can then be retroactively reimbursed for these older encounters. The challenge is to capture these encounters the moment they become retro-reimbursable and before they expire beyond timely filing.

100% Contingency Based Retroactive Medicaid Tracking

RetroCAID® automatically monitors the eligibility status of every self-pay and sliding fee encounter within your system on a daily basis. The eligibility status of every self-pay and sliding fee encounter is checked daily for 365 days or until it expires past timely filing.
